RMLD Will Hold Electric Car Show on August 15th at Wilmington Farmers Market

Wilmington, MA – The Reading Municipal Light Department (RMLD) invites customers to attend a free Electric Car Show on Sunday, August 15, 2021 from 10:00 am to 1:00 pm. The event will be held in the Swain Green parking lot located at 140 Middlesex Avenue, Wilmington, during the Wilmington Farmers Market.

A variety of plug-in electric vehicle models will be on display from auto dealerships and local EV owners. Attendees can learn about the various makes and models and talk to real EV owners about their experiences. Information on charging stations, electric vehicle incentive programs, and RMLD rebate programs will also be available. This family-friendly event will feature complimentary snacks and a raffle.

Plug-in electric vehicles offer significant benefits including reduced overall ownership costs for EV owners and reduced carbon tailpipe emissions.
